CASH,

I HAVE determined to sell my FARM, at the fork of Chartier's creek, in the county of Washington, fifteen miles from Pittsburgh, consisting of about 214 acres, so low for CASH as to make it a great object for any one having the command of money. Its advantages in point of soil, timber, water, sugar camps, neighbourhood, proximity to mills, markets, the turnpike road from Washington to Pittsburgh, meeting houses and an exeellent college, are well known—Added to these, some enterprising individuals of capital, are now boring for Salt within a quarter of a mile of it, at a lick which has produced salt from the surface, so that no doubt is entertained of their success. This will be useful, not only to the vicinity in general, but it will be of peculiar benefit to the tract hereby offered for sale, as it will afford a constant market for the stone coal with which the land abounds. I will give the purchaser a PATENT in my own name and a general warranty deed. The title is indisputable. I am willing to dispose of eight or ten other tracts, on moderate terms.

To Emigrants

HAVING associated myself with a considerable company for the purpose of settling a new place in the state of Illinois, opposite the mouth of White river and Patoka, at the foot of the Grand Rapids of the Wabash, (MOUNT CARMEL) with an intention to remove to it, as soon as practicable, I have contracted for the making and burning of 150,000 brick, which I wish put up next season into buildings and the Bricklayer's and carpenter's work undertaken conjointly, the plaistering and whitewashing included. Lands adjoining the Town, and town lots, at cash prices, and cash, a proportion of each will be given in payment when the work is completed.

Having entered lands for the accommodation of settlers favourable to the views of the settlement, a considerable body adjoining the settlement and town lands, divided into lots of from 10 to 100 and 160 acres each may be had at the Congress prices, with the exception of the interest on the money paid, and a small advance to defray expences, &c.

I wish to employ some persons to enclose or clear lands for me, for which I will pay in lands at cash prices. I have a body of open and timbered lands, that I would lease from 5 to 10 years on advantageous terms to emigrants unable to purchase. A convenient farm to let, by an early application to the Agent may be had.

A canal for boats and water works around the Grand Rapids of the Wabash, a company is forming to commence opening next season, that will afford employment for labourers, and no inconsiderable inducement to capatlist to invest their funds in the establishment. Considerable encouragement and aid have already been tendered for that purpose by emigrants from the Eastern States. The river is open for navigation from this place to New-Orleans all the year.

Application may be made to WM. BEAUCHAMP, the Agent for the establishment, residing in Mount Carmel, or to the subscriber, residing at present in New-port. None need apply but moral characters.

A Most Valuable Estate

FOR SALE,

THAT beautiful estate, commonly known by the name of MONTOUES' or LONG ISLAND, about five miles below Pittsburgh, in the Ohio river, containing in the whole 1,000 acres, is offered for sale. It is divided into three separate tracts, on each of which there are handsome improvements; the land is of the best quality, well timbered, and not subject to overflow. It is universally esteemed, both as to soil and situation, the finest property in the western country. The proprietors would prefer selling the whole in a body, but to suit purchasers, it may be divided into three tracts.

The terms may be known by applying to Major Isaac Craig on the premises, or to the subscriber, who is agent for the proprietors, at his office in Pittsburgh.

JAMES HALL,
Attorney at Law

WESTERN HOTEL,

No. 228 MARKET STREET,

Sign of General Washington.

THE subscriber begs leave to inform his friends and the public, that he has taken that well known establishment in Market street, next door to the Pittsburgh Mail Stage Office, and lately occupied by Mr. George Yohe. To those who have been accustomed to resort to this house, it is unnecessary to point out its superior advantages. For the information of others we deem it necessary to state that its situation is central, high, healthy and convenient to business; an extensive range of back buildings, consisting of lodging rooms, afford a fine view of the city to the eastward, and admit a free and uninterrupted circulation of air—and what will give them a decided preference in the opinion of many, is the attachment thereto of balconies, so constructed as not only to afford pleasant promenades, but easy means of escape in the event of any necessity from any sudden alarm of fire. The great Western Stages start every morning from the door, and on the premises is one of the best Livery Stables in the city, conducted by Mr. John Tomlinson, where travellers' horses will be faithfully attended to. With these advantages, and some other improvements now making, added to his own unremitted exertions to please, the subscriber confidently hopes for, and very respectfully solicits a share of public patronage.

Philadelphia, August 11.—[illegible]

To Rent or Sell,

A BREWERY, pleasantly situated on the bank of the Ohio river in the town of Gallipolis, county of Gallia and state of Ohio.

This Brewery is in complete operation, and has all the necessary buildings &c. adjoining the same, such as malt-house, kiln, pump &c. There is a piece of woodland attached to the property, where timber and firewood can be obtained in any quantity, for the use of the brewery. Barley can also be had on reasonable terms from the farmers in the neighbourhood, who now attend pretty largely to the cultivation thereof.

This brewery is in a fine situation for business—4 miles below the mouth of the Great Kenhawa, on which river any quantity of malt liquors can be sold for the consumption of the Salt works.

The buildings and pump are calculated for the establishment of a Distillery, which would be of great advantage in Gallipolis where there is none.

Terms will be made easy and accommodating. For further particulars, apply to

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 4, 1819.

Keep a good look out !

We are informed that the noted David Lewis, who lately escaped from Bedford jail, was in this city on Sunday night. A reward of Two Hundred Dollars is offered for his apprehension.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

Copy of a letter to the Editors of the Baltimore American, dated

St. Thomas, Nov. 26, 1819.

"The latest news here from Bolivar and his army are, that he was successful. He has got possession of all the country near Carthagena, itself it is expected he will be master of, ere long. The government there have forwarded despatches to Havanna, stating, that if they are not immediately reinforced the place must fall. Whether this is correct or not is hard to say, for there are few reports that reach this place that can be relied on, respecting the movements of the Patriots."

Capt. Gibson of the schr. William, has politely handed us the St. Thomas Times of the 23d Nov. last, from which we have made the following extracts.

The William was dismasted off the mouth of the Potomac.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 23.

By a late arrival from Curracoa we have received the papers of that Island up to the 15th inst.

The Corrocoa Courant of the 6th inst. confirms the account of the capture and evacuation of Rio de la Hatch, by Mac Gregor; but states that he had embarked his troops, (with the exception of a few killed in the engagement) and proceeded to Aux Cayes.

A Jamaica paper states that col. Rafter and the British officers were not shot at Porto Bello. They had been tried for a conspiracy and acquitted. Lord Cochrane had offered eight Spaniards for each British officer, and fifteen for col. Rafter, and ten for a Mr. Moore.

Curracoa, Nov. 18.

Private letters received, here from different parts of the Spanish Main, agree in stating that Bolivar had been defeated, in two actions by the troops of the king, & that the vice king Samano, had in consequence re-occupied St. Fe. That Bolivar may have been defeated, we do not doubt, but the celerity of Samano's movements, and his having so speedily collected together such a large body of men, is rather questionable, for we recollect that captain Leen, of the schr. Admiral Kirkkert, who arrived here a few days ago, in a short passage from Carthagena, there saw and spoke with the vice king, then fugitive from St. Fe, without troops, and with very slender means of raising any.

Extract of a letter from Puerto Cabello dated 9th Nov. 1819.

"The tide of trade is stagnated here but it is expected to take a brisk course soon, in consequence of the flattering news received by the mail from Maracaibo, of two successive defeats experienced by Bolivar from the army of Calzada, who is reported to have taken a booty of two million of dollars, and re-captured the capital of the kingdom of New Grenada. The vicissitude accounts for the late movement of Morillo towards Barquisimeto, is doubtless to obstruct Bolivar inh is retreat. The viceroy is said to have joined Calzada with 2,000 men. General Latoorre fell back on Gritta, to provide himself with ammunition from Maracaibo, but on learning Bolivar's defeat marched on without fulfilling this object, with the view, no doubt, to come up with him."

A gentleman from New Orleans, has enclosed us the following extract from a letter which he received from his correspondent at Natchitoches, & observes, 'as I am acquainted with the parties, I have no doubt of the facts therein set forth. Burtsell and Barber, mentioned in the extract, are well known in New-York, and will enable your citizens to judge of the accuracy of the report." Here follows the extract.—N. Y. E P.

'NATCHITOCHES, 3d Nov.

'Nine o'clock this evening we received the news of the arrival of 2000 Spaniards on the banks of the Sabine, all mounted, and within fifty miles of us. They had driven all before them on their march to St. Antonio, and burnt all the villages. They have driven the remainder of the Republicans in all directions, and have put several of them to death. Gen. Long has, with risk, got clear with his family, but the commander at that place has orders to send him if caught, to Washington, by direction of the President. We do not know where this will end. We have but fifty soldiers at this post. They have got one family from New York, just settled there by the name of Burtsell. We buried Mr. Barber twenty five days since.'

On the 20th of August last, two Spaniards formerly residents of Santioga de Cuba, were hanged for piracy, and their heads cut off and hung up in iron cages at the mouth of the harbor. These wretches, in company with six others, who had not as yet fallen into the hands of justice, had taken an English schooner and murdered the greater part of the crew.

NEW-ORLEANS. Nov. 27.

Extract of a letter to the Editor, dated Natchitoches, Nov. 3.

"Captain Beard, commanding the U. States' troops on the Sabine, arrived here this morning and contains the report of last evening, that a detachment about 200 strong of Spanish Royal Cavalry had encamped on the opposite side of the river. They had manifested no intention of crossing the river; but enquired the motives of the government in stationing a force beyond the Rio Hondo."

New-York, December 21.

LOSS OF THE SHIP AMERICA.

In a part of the impression of yesterday, we announced that in the gale on Sunday, a large India ship was wrecked near the Hook, and that fifteen of the crew were drowned. We have since received the following facts in relation to this melancholy shipwreck:—The ship proves to have been the America, captain Vibberts, in 200 days from Calcutta, with a full cargo of bale goods, silks, gum, ginger, and sugar—In attempting to enter the Hook, she was driven by the force of the gale upon the New Jersey shore. She struck with great violence in four fathoms water, knocked off her rudder, & fell over to the leeward. The lanyards were immediately cut away, & the three masts went by the board. The captain, second mate, two Supercargoes, and eleven seamen took to the long boat which was soon overwhelmed by the waves, and they all perished. The first and nine of the of the crew lashed themselves to the quarter deck, which, in an hour and a half separated from the ship, and conveyed them in safety to the shore. The survivors were so exhausted and chilled, that only two of them were able to walk.

The persons preserved on the quarter deck were the following:—Mr. Page, first mate, and Messrs. Cox, & Saunders, Nicholl, Hayburg, Vallou, Roberts, Tunis, and another whose name we have not heard.

The following is a list of persons drowned in the long-boat:—Captain Vibberts, who has left a wife and four children in New-Jersey; Mr. Field and Mr. Garregus, supercargoes, both of Philadelphia; Mr. Lawson, second mate, of Connecticut; and Messrs. John Holmer, Wm. Jones, Thomas Pryor, George Hughes John Minuse, Neil Patterson, Samuel Dobbins, a black boy belonging to the captain, and three others, whose names are not known.

The bodies of the captain and several others were found on the shore yesterday morning.

The ship went to pieces in less than two hours after she struck, and a part of the cargo, which drifted ashore, has been saved. The vessel belonged to captain Charles Hall of this city, and the cargo, principally to merchants in Philadelphia. We understand that insurance had been effected to the full amount of vessel and cargo.

Most of the crew, in consequence of a very long and boisterious voyage, were so afflicted with the scurvy that only eight of the number were fit for duty. Thomas Parsellis, carpenter, died on board, about the middle of November.

Just as our paper was going to press, we received, from our agent at the Vineyard, some interesting shipping intelligence, and London dates to Nov. 5, bro't by the Gen. Pike, capt. Crediford, in 49 days from Falmouth, (Eng.) The political news by this vessel, is not very important; every one was looking forward to the opening of Parliament, with anxious enquiries, and some with positive anticipations of the measures to which ministers will resort in the present alarming state of the country. Those who pretend to be well informed on this subject—though perhaps by such statements they are only putting out their feelers—assert that something like the Irish system will be proposed, respecting the disturbed counties: that is summary powers to be confined to the Lords Lieutenants, on the declaration of the Magistrates respecting the state of the counties respectively, to place them under Martial Law. The Press it is also asserted, will experience some kind of muzzling—if the country can be brought to submit to it—or rather, if Ministers can carry the measure in Parliament; but some say, this will only extend to the two penny press, the weekly morsels of sedition and blasphemy. And it is also said, that restraint of some description, will be put on the privilege which belongs to Britons to meet and discuss publicly any matter of grievance—perhaps of the same description as those in force a few years ago, when the sanction of a Magistrate, on the requisition of at least six respectable housekeepers, was an indispensable requisite.

Letters have been received from Mogadore, dated the 28th Sept. which mention, that the plague, which had been for some time in the vicinity, had at length broken out in that town. We are happy to add however, that the deaths at that period were only three or four each day, and that it was then confined to the Moors, none of the Christians or Jews having fallen victims to the pestilence.

Private letters from Madrid, received this morning, express great apprehensions least the malignant fever which is now raging in the South West of Spain, should penetrate to that capital. In one of these letters, dated October 21st it is asserted that on on that day two deaths from the fever actually occurred; but the fact was not distinctly ascertained.

We have not yet perused the pamphlet from which the following passage so applicable to the present awful crisis, is extracted in a London paper, but we have heard it spoken of with the highest encomiums.

"A Rev. Mr. Berguer has just published what he calls "A WARNING LETTER TO THE PRINCE REGENT; from which we copy the following sensible remarks on the policy of calling in the English military to keep down the people:—If your dependence is placed upon your ARMY alone, for the suppression of a general insurrection, your expectations will be disappointed. It is idle to suppose that the army will draw a single sword against the collective sense of the nation. Whatever may be the Duke of Wellington's sentiments (and a rumor is gone abroad, that his Grace's voice in the cabinet turned the scale, on a late interesting division, where it was no glory to turn it!) he will not find his troops so ready to obey him, when the charge is against BRITISH BOSOMS, and the word of command the signal for a general fratricide. The reapers will not go forth to such a Cadmœn harvest!—Besides, the men themselves are no longer the same individuals that they were four years ago, flushed with conquest and inebriated with blood. Peaceably domiciliated among their friends, they have all this while been gradually collapsing into their civil character; and to a great degree, they have become amalgamated with the people."

IMPRISONMENT FOR DEBT.

We have often exercised our feeble pen in deprecating the inhumanity, folly and wickedness of converting the inability to pay a debt into a criminal offence, and inflicting upon it the punishment awarded to crime; nor have we been singular—men of transcendant talents and extensive information have reprobated the impolitic system of confining a man's body, thereby debasing his mind and repressing his future exertions, because he owes money which he is not able to pay. It is with much satisfaction that we notice the introduction of a bill into the house of representatives of this state, by Josiah Randall, Esq. one of the representatives from our city, the object of which is stated to be the abolition of that remnant of feudal tenures. Of its specific provisions we have no information, but trust, that when the body of an insolvent debtor is declared to be hereafter exempted from incarceration, that it will scrupulously guard the just rights of the creditor. All partial and perspective conveyances, of either real or personal estate, ought to be declared nugatory;—and where fraud, collusion, embezzlement or fictitious ownership of an insolvent's goods, be practised or even attempted, let all the fell severity of the criminal law, according to the magnitude and torpitude of the crime, be the offender's doom. MURDER AND PIRACY.

PROVIDENCE, (R. I.) Dec. 4.

Captain Daily of the schooner Essex, arrived here on Monday last, from the coast of Africa, handed us the subjoined relation in manuscript for publication The coast is infested with swarms of pirates man-stealers, and murderers.

Relation of three sailors, who served on board the Dutch schooner Dxie Vxienden. (Three Friends,) Captain Casper Thot.

On the 8th of may last, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon they anchored at in Dexcore Roads, where the captain landed two croomen for the Governor, accompanied by a letter, to which the captain received an answer The watch from 12 to 6 P. M. was kept by two sailors, the one a Dutchman, and the other an Italian. About half past 2 o'clock in the morning, one of the sailors below was awakened by a noise that was on deck; he got up to go upon deck, but found the hatch shut. He awakened his comrades immediately, who were asleep, & and informed them of the noise that was on deck, and that the hatch was shut. The three births of three sailors, being Italians by birth, were only empty; in consequence of which the conjectured some evil design. They got up together, being five in number, of which three were Dutch & two English; the name of one of the latter was John Gayes, & the other only known under the name of John. After repeated knocks on the hatch, it was at last opened, but the three Italians stood in arms before them, threatening to murder any one who made the least resistance. They ordered one of the Englishmen to come upon deck, saying, 'We shall not hurt you.' He obeying them, and having got upon deck, was sent aloft to loosen the sails; afterward the second English sailor being made to come upon deck by the same promise, was also sent aloft for the same purpose. At the same time the three Dutch sailors wanting to go upon deck, were pushed down again, by which one of them received a wound in the head, by a sword, after which the hatch was shut again. After a little time the hatch was opened, and they were, one by one, made to go upon deck, and were bound and sent directly below. Afterwards they heard the cable cut, and that they put to sea. In a little time the Dutch sailors were ordered upon deck again, to examine the ropes by which they were bound, and two of them were put into the cable tier and the third aft. By this means they saw one dutch sailor was murdered and lay on the grate. They therefore tho't the same in respect to the captain and his son, as they were not heard any where. After the three Italians had come twice to see if the ropes by which they were bound were yet properly fast, they came again at 12 o'clock, (now ninth of May,) between which time they had been able to loosen a little the one and the other. They were again brought upon deck, and the two Englishmen were ordered by the three Italians to bind them properly again, thretening to run them through, if they did not do it as it ought to be. They were again bound in in the cable tier by the hands and the feet, to the cable. Having suffered in this situation till dark, and not hearing any more noise on deck, they thought the ship was deserted; after many trials they succeeded in unbinding themselves, and wishing to go upon deck, they found the hatch was nailed down, which they broke open by force. Coming upon the deck they found that the ship was really deserted. and the long boat gone. The deck was scattered with powder, & a train laid to the magazine. A burning match was found by the gangway, which had burnt almost to the powder. Having destroyed the power and extinguished the match, they resolved to set course for the land, the ship being then aback. Having sailed but a short distance, they discovered the boat behind them, and approaching them very fast; in consequence, they got a few clothes and fled with all haste, in the small boat, in all this haste, they saw the captain & his son lying murdered in the cabin, not having had time to make a minute inspection, as they required every moment to fly from these murderers. When they were about four English miles from the ship, they saw it blow up in the air; and they arrived this morning, 10th May, at Elmina. The boat in which the criminals deserted, is about twenty feet long, and painted black under, and above with a green stripe.

Names, &c. of the three Italians and Englishmen, so far as known to them:—Louis, about twenty five years of age, five feet in height, rather fat, black hair, tawny colour, black eyes, large nose. Pedro, about twenty years of age, about five and an half feet in height, very lusty, brown hair, round face, pale countenance, brown eyes, ordinary nose, lost one or two of his upper teeth. Johannes, about twenty years of age, five feet three inches high, rather poor posture, dark hair, oval face, tawny colour, brown eyes, long bent nose. John Gayes, about sixteen years of age, four feet six inches high, brown hair, healthy countenance, and brown eyes. John, thirty three years of age, about five feet six inches high, broad shouldered, read hair and beard, freckled, light eyes, fair colour, and ordinary countenance.

PITTSBURGH.

Tuesday, Jan. 4, 1820.

Copy of a letter from Thomas Jefferson, late President of the United States, to the Editor of the Pittsburgh Gazette, dated,

MONTICELLO, Dec. 18, 1819.

SIR,

On receipt of your letter of the 10th instant, I turned to my papers respecting the medals given by Congress to certain officers; they charged their minister of finance with procuring them, and he put the execution into the hands of Col. Humphreys, when he went to Portugal as secretary of legation—but he returning before much progress was made, left the completion with me. I had them completed and when I returned from France, in 1789, I brought with me complete sets, and delivered them to Gen. Washington, the one in silver for himself, the soldiers in gold or silver, as voted by Congress, were for the officers, and delivered to Col. Washington to be presented. That to Col. Morgan, was of gold—each die cost 2400 livres, and the gold for the medal was 400 livres as an additional charge. Congress had directed copies in silver to be presented to the different sovereigns of Europe and to the Universities of that quarter and of our own; this part of the business being unfinished, was left with Mr. Short, and finally, I believe, dropt. The dies were directed to be deposited in the office of Mr. Grand, banker of the United States, and I think they were afterwards directed to be sent here and deposited in the treasury office; but of this I am not sure. If they are not in our treasury they ought still to be in the office of Mr. Grand. The dies were considered as the property of the United States, and if not sent here, can, I imagine be found by our minister at Paris, although Mr. Grand be dead long since, a Mr Gautier succeeded him in his house, but retired long since to Geneva, is still living as far as I know, and can give information on the subject. Perhaps Mr. Short of Philadelphia, can also give information. This is the sum of my knowledge of the matter, which is tendered with assurances of my respect.

TH. JEFFERSON.

M. Neville.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Mr. Trmble of Ky. offered, on the 30th inst. the following resolutions—

1. That the committee on Ways and Means be instructed to inquire into the expediency of repealing all laws whereby a CREDIT is allowed upon duties accruing upon imposts and tonnage.

2. That the same committee be instructed to inquire into the expediency of repealing all laws allowing drawback.

Mr. Trimble briefly explained his views. There was a deficit according to the report of the secretary of treasury of five millions; and five millions more must be raised to pay the claims assumed by our government, under the late Spanish treaty. It must not be forgotten, he said, that we are called upon to perform the treaty on our part, and to FORCE compliance on the part of Spain. If we resolve to occupy the Floridas, ways and means must be found to raise ten millions of dollars for the next year beyond the estimated income of the treasury.

Mr. Smith, of Md. of after observing that this was a question of vital importance, laying the axe at the root of the whole system of the revenue, was however pleased that it had been introduced, and the resolutions were on the table.

THE VERMONT MURDER AGAIN.

We yesterday expressed a desire to know upon what sort of testimony Stephen and James Brown, were convicted of the murder of Russel Colvin, who is now living, and in this city. The National Advocate of this morning gives, on the authority of a gentleman some extraordinary and mysterious circumstances, attending the whole transaction.

"Colvin was a man of inexperience, of little talent or capacity to earn his living, he married a sister of those Browns, who had to support him, and to whom he was very obnoxious—Colvin was in the habit of straying away from his home, and keeping away for a length of time—he took his final departure, and nothing was heard of him, until the dream. It turned out, that in a field of those Browns, a large hole was usually kept open for preserving potatoes during winter—it was suddenly closed. In this old hole a skeleton, of a man was found, a barlow penknife, bloody, and another knife, rusty, lay along side of him. Colvin's wife declared that they had belonged to her husband—she swore also to the buttons on his clothes, and for the first time suspected he had been murdered—the two Browns were arrested—the younger one was imprisoned, and in the same prison a man was confined who had been arrested on suspicion of forgery, but subsequently, was honorably acquitted; to this man Brown confessed that he and his brother had murdered Colvin, and buried him in the potatoe hole—this confession was given in evidence against them, which, together with other circumstances, led to his conviction. This is the story told to us—Colvin is alive and these men are innocent—but to whom does the skeleton belong? Some one was murdered in Brown's field, and secretly buried there—that the two brothers when quarrelling, were frequently heard to threaten each other mysteriously. The ways of Providence are hidden from us, and the discovery of Colvin's existence may lead to the knowledge of who the person was thus cautiously buried; respecting whom, there is reason to believe, if our information is true, that the Browns know something—another dream may be more conclusive." N. Y. Ev. Post.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.

A very distressing event occurred in the city yesterday. A rencountre took place between Mr. Robert M. Goodwin, of Baltimore, and James Stoughton, Esq. (son of Dr. Thomas Stoughton.) near the corner of Broadway and Courtland street, in which the latter received a wound from a cane-dirk, which almost immediately caused his death. Whether the wound was designed or accidental, appears to be uncertain. As the matter will undoubtedly be the subject of judicial investigation, it would be improper to enter into further particulars at present. That such an event, in the most public part of of our city, and at mid-day should cause great excitement, is perfectly natural.

The coroner's inquest held on the body of Mr. Stoughton was occupied in examining witnesses till ten o'clock last night; but being unable to finish their examination, adjourned to this morning, when their verdict will be given.

Just as our paper was prepared for the press, we were informed that Goodwin was last night arrested at Elizabethtown, (N. J.) and is now in custody in this city.

DETROIT, December 3.

The troops recently employed on the military road, (under the command of lieuts. Mellen and Davis,) leading from this place to the state of Ohio, returned to this post on Saturday last in good health and spirits. The road is now cut through, and bridges made over runs and marshes from this place to the Miami Rapids, a distance of 75 miles. The notorious Black Swamps will next be attacked. Those who have seen the bridges which have been made by the troops, speak highly of their strength & neatness; and all concur in rendering much praise to the industry and dicipline of the troops while employed under the commaud of lieuts. Mellen and Davis.

EXECUTION OF JAMES VEST.

Petersburgh, (Vir.) Dec. 21.

The benignity of our laws has made capital punishment so rare in Virginia, that whenever they occur, they excite deep interest. In the neighbouring county of Chesterfield, an execution took place on Friday last.

A man named JAMES VEST, at the last term of the Supreme Court of that county was found guilty of Murder in the first degree, and was pursuant to the sentence then passed on him, hanged on Friday.

The case as we are informed by a gentleman who was present at the trial, was deeply interesting. The person murdered was the wife of the criminal, and the principal witnesses were three girls, the common offspring of the murderer and his victim! It is believed too, that a fiend in female shape, with whose name, we will not polute our paper, urged him to the deed!

The murder was committed in a deeply secluded spot, and was discovered only by a most singular accident. A runaway negro who was concealed in an adjoining thicket, witnessed the murder and was so horror struck at the sight, that he surrendered himself to justice and disclosed the terrible crime. The criminal fled, but in a few days was apprehended. There was adduced at the trial, strong proof of the fact, corroborated by the repeated voluntary confessions, made by the prisoner.

Lexington, (Ky.) Dec. 8.

The legislature of this state met on Monday last. All the members present took the oath against duelling, except Mr. Hayes, of Nelson, who declined taking it, and expatiated at great length against its constitutionality. The subject being likely to engage too much of the attention of the house, it was laid over for consideration at another time.

NOVEL OCCURRENCE.

On the night of the 4th inst. at Amoskeag falls, the water fell away so as to leave a great part of the bed of the river dry. Several persons walked dry-shod up and down the craggy rocks, over which the water, from 2 to 8 feet deep, had for ages been tumbling in foaming whiteness. The whole bed of the river was discoverable; and the numerous winding channels through which the fish pass and repass—the deep caves and subterraneous vaults, which were laid open to view, altogether formed a spectacle interesting and grand. The cause of this phenomenon was a bridge of ice formed across the river at the head of the falls, which for some time backed the stream.—Concord Pat.

FROM TATE LONDON PAPERS.

Letters from a captain of one of the lost vessels in Davis's Straights, dated Edinburgh, September 10:—"The destruction of so many ships in the Straits, in one season I believe is unprecedented. No person who has not visited those northern regions can form even from the most correct description, a just idea of those immense masses of ice called icebergs, and of those heavy sheets of ice flaws, which when in motion by a gale of wind, spread havock wherever they are wafted. As I am lately returned from the Straits of Davis, my mind is still pregnant with the tragic scenes which were presented to my view.

"On the morning of July 7, the Mary Ann, of Dundee, and Raith, of Leith, were totally seen wrecked: their masts were level with the ice. As our situation was critical, our only safety was placed in being in dock, which are spaces cut out in the fast ice, in which the ships are placed; but, alas! our trust proved of no effect. On the morning of the 14th two other sail were seen destroyed, not far from our ship, viz. the Equestris, of Hull, and the Sisters, of Kirklady; their docks gave way from the excessive pressure of an ingress of ice. On the morning of the 16th a strong S. W. gale arose, and we observed at an early hour, from aloft, that a quantity of heavy flaws were put in motion, and were setting in fast upon us. There were four ships all placed in docks (to one of which I belonged) viz. Majestic of London; Tay, of Dundee; Royal Bounty, and Thomas and Ann, of Leith. At 5, P. M. the destructive masses of ice were near at hand, and the collision of one piece of ice against another conveyed a sound similar to a peal of distant thunder—20 minutes after, the ice, which was running three knots, first came in contest with the most windward dock, where the Tay and Majestic were; in a moment our ears resounded with the destrutive crash—in a few seconds the other two ships shared the same fate.—No language can picture a state more truely alarming—the appalling cry of leave the ship, sounded from every quarter. We next made tents upon the ice with spars and sail cloths, and spent the night amidst a thick fog and showers of snow. Fahrenheit's thermometer stood at seven degrees below the frezing point. By the end of the third day the fog cleared away, and a number of ships were seen to the S. about 12 miles distant; a signal of distress was hoisted, and men were seen coming across the ice, to learn the extent of the losses. On the 21st. the Dexterity, of Leith, homeward bound with shipwrecked men) passed a number of casks, heaps of ashes and lumber, lying upon the ice—sent a boat, and ascertained them to be the remains of the Ocean and Samuels, of Hull, that were crushed to pieces on the 14th or 16th of same month. Out of ten ship's crews, only two men have perished."

We have received the following interesting notice from a correspondent:—The bottle, No. 2 thrown overboard by captain J. Ross, of his Majesty's ship Isabella, on the 3d June, 1818, lat. 65, 40, N. long. 54 10, W. of Greenwich, to ascertain the direction of the current in Davis's Straits, was found, by one of the servants of A. Macdonald, Esq. at Balnarald, North Uist, on the 17th of July last; and the paper enclosed in it quite dry; so that it was 13 months and 14 days on its passage: the lat. of Balranald is about 57 20 N. The paper has been transmitted to the Admiralty, agreeably to their request:

POLITICAL MAXIMS and APHORISMS.

Good rulers make and execute laws solely for the public good; and reward, protect and punish without favor or partiality.

Wise rulers, who diligently attend to their business, scatter the wicked and purge the state. Wicked rulers only favor the wicked.

The nation whose imports exceed their exports, is in the same situation, as a family whose expenses exceed their incomes. And vice versa.

The nation, who exports more in their commodities, than they import foreign ones, as surely grows rich, as a farmer who sells more produce than to balance his expenses. And,

That nation who imports cash, received for their exports, will as surely have plenty of a circulating medium, as that nation will be poor and drained of cash, who exports it for gewgaws. And,

That merchant, who drains his country of cash by sending it to foreign markets, is not only guilty of folly, but suicide and parricide.

Industry and economy, patience and courage in all ranks of people, will relieve a state in great embarrasments, and extricate it from difficulties.

For the Gazette.

He has cross'd the blue mountain to lands far away,
Over wilds dark and woody unfriended to rove,
But he went not unwept, not alone shall he stray,
O'er the craggy blue mountain, the lofty blue mountain,
O'er the craggy blue mountain, I follow my love.

When I breath forth his name, echo softly replies,
And the lov'd sound escapes from my cold lips in vain,
For ah! burthen'd with sorrow he mournfully flies,
And he seeks o'er the mountain, the lofty blue mountain,
O'er the lofty blue mountain, a refuge from pain.

I will borrow love's wings—with the speed of the wind,
I'll pursue the dear youth through each dark glen and grove,
From his cares he may fly, but ah, ne'er can he find,
O'er the dusky blue mountain, the lofty blue mountain,
O'er the lofty blue mountain, a refuge from love.

An Ordinance,

Supplementary to an "Ordinance regulating the markets, and prescribing the duties of the Clerk of the markets, & of the Weighmaster.'

WHEREAS great inconvenience hath resulted to persons attending the market, as well buyers as sellers, from the outside stalls in the Diamond market house, being rented to individuals.

Therefore,

Section 1st, Be it ordained and enacted by the Citizens of Pittsburgh in Select and Common Councils assembled, That from and after the passing of this ordinance, no outside stalls in the Diamond market house, shall be rented to any person whatever—but that said stalls which are not now rented, and such others as are at present rented, from time to time as the term for which they are rented shall expire, shall be and remain free and open to the common use of all persons attending the said market during market hours, provided that no one person shall occupy more than one half of a stall—and provided that the Clerk of the market shall not permit butchers or other persons who cut up and sell meat of any kind by retail, to occupy any of said outside stalls.

Sect. 2.—If any butcher or other person or persons who cut up or sell meat by retail, shall persist in occupying any such outside stall, after being notified by the clerk of the market to desist from such practice, every person so offending shall forfeit and pay a fine of not less than two dollars nor more than five dollars for every such offence, to be recovered with costs of prosecution, and with like compensation to the informer; as other fines are by the ordinance of the city directed to be recovered.

Section 3d. That so much of the ordinance to which this is a supplement, as is repugnant or inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance be, and the same is hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted into a law in council, this 29th day of Dec. A. D. 1819.

Henry Miller & Co.

HAVE the pleasure of announcing to their friends and the public generally, that they have again opened their establishment for manufacturing Postly's Patent COOKING STOVES at their old stand, in Second street, two doors from Wood street, where all orders will be attended to.

December 21.

Charles Postly's Patent

COOKING STOVE

OR PORTABLE KITCHENS.

MANUFACTURED and sold by HENRY MILLER & Co in 2d street, two doors from the corner of Wood streets, Pittsburgh.

This Stove with fixtures complete, comprises every necessary article of apparatus for an extensive cooking establishment.

The different sizes are calculated to do the cooking for small or large families, public houses and Steam-boats, and are so extremely simple in their construction as to be managed with ease by a child, twelve or fourteen years of age.

With this Stove may be cooked, by baking, roasting, boiling and by steam, a sufficiency of meats, fish, fowls and vegetables, to make a dinner for from 5 to 100 persons, while at the same time may be baked from 1 to 8 loaves of bread.

A wooden vessel containing from twenty to fifty gallons of water, can also be kept boiling, for the purposes of washing, &c. All these are done simultaneously and with one small fire.

The circumstance of these Stoves having got into very general use at the eastward, within 2 or 3 years past, particularly in the cities of New-York and Baltimore, with the rapid sale and general approbation they have met with since their first introduction last winter, west of the mountains, are sufficient testimonials of their utility and advantage.

The subscribers having purchased of the patentee the right for making and vending said Stoves in the western country, are ready to execute with punctuality and despatch, all orders at his Manufactory, as above, where also may be had, Cast and Sheet iron Stoves, suitable for Parlours, Offices, Stores & Bed-rooms, to which boilers may be attached if wanted.

The proprietors to accommodate persons residing in different parts of the country, have opened a store in Main street, Cincinnati, and also appointed agents, as follows—Luther Stephens & Co. Lexington, Ken. Samuel January, Sen. & Co. Maysville, Ken. J. B. Bowles, Louisville, K. Joseph Litton, Nashville, Tenn. James Cochran, Madison, Indiana. Neal & Liggett, St. Louis.

Pittsburgh Manufacturing Association.

A NUMBER of the Mechanicks and Manufacturers of the City of Pittsburgh and its vicinity, anxious to promote and invigorate that spirit of domestic industry which is so essential to the prosperity of the western country, having entered into an association under the above denomination, inform the public that they have opened a large and convenient Brick Warehouse in Wood Street, between Front and Second Streets, for the reception and sale of the different articles which they manufacture, together with such articles of domestick produce and manufacture as may be deposited for sale, or consigned to their care; and have appointed George Cochran their Chief Clerk or Agent, to whom all orders and communications on the mercantile business of the association, will in future be addressed. They intend to receive, forward and dispose of all goods entrusted to their care, (ed pecially articles of domestick produce and manufacture) on the most reasonable terms, and hope to give satisfaction to those who may please to favour them with their custom and patronage. From the variety and extent of domestic produce and manufactures which may be collected and offered for sale at their Warehouse, with punctuality in paying over the proceeds, and attention to business, a beneficial result is anticipated, as well to the vender as the purchaser.

All orders enclosing the cash for articles manufactured by the members of the association, or sold in their Warehouse, will be promptly and faithfully executed, at the lowest wholesale prices, without any charge for commission, and western current notes taken in payment.

It is also intended to exchange manufactured articles for country produce and raw materials, such as Iron, Lead, Wool, Cotton, Sugar, Salt, Whiskey, Bacon, Hogs-lard, Butter, Cheese, Flaxseed Oil, Hogs Bristles, Linen, Yarn, Rags.

Annexed is a list of articles now offered for Sale.
